

Federal Hall 26 Wall Street (1)

We will begin our Walk of Repentance at the base of the above statue of George Washington. We will meet for prayer, read scriptures together and see the place where George Washington took the oath to become the 1st President of the United States in 1789.

Walk of Repentance Saturday April 13, 2013~10 am EST

Now is the time to join Dr. Art Mathias and others while they walk in New York City and pray for America. The various sites they will be stopping at are pictured below. If you did not receive our last email concerning: How Do We Pray For America?

Wall Street Bull (2)

Moving onto Wall Street, we will pass the New York Stock Exchange where the Wall Street Bull is and stop and pray.

Trinity Chapel (3)

These roots are from the sycamore tree that protected St. Paul's Chapel from falling debris on Sept. 11, 2001. (This building is under renovation, and not visible right now.)

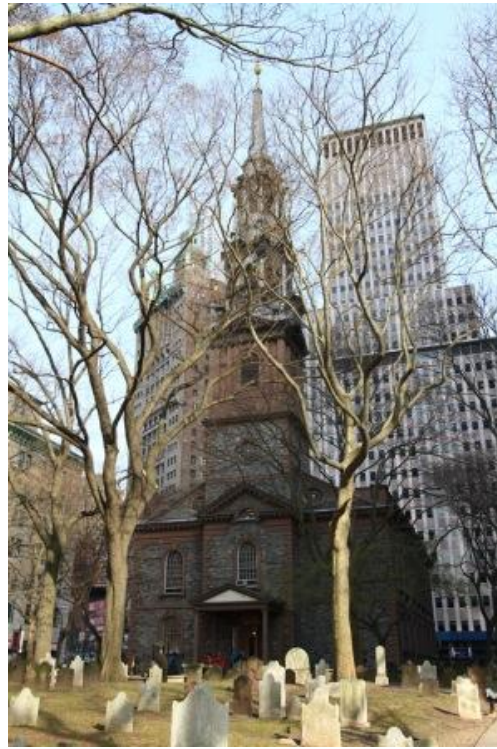

One World Trade Center (4)

As we continue we will pass Ground Zero, the construction site of the new tower that is almost finished.

St. Paul's Chapel (5) - Facing Ground Zero

In the cemetery next to the street, is the cedar tree that replaced the sycamore.

Cedar Tree at Ground Zero (6)

The cedar tree is not healthy and looks as if it is about to die.

St Paul's Chapel (7)

We will complete our Walk of Repentance here. We will go inside and pray for as long as the Lord leads.

I want to personally thank everyone who attended this incredible Walk of Repentance with me and who also prayed at your own home or church gathering as we were here in New York. It has been a desire of mine to do this prophetic act of repentance for a long time.

I truly do appreciate each one of you who have given effort and time to accomplish this with me.

Many blessings be upon you as we agree together for our nation.

Dr. Art & Patti Mathias
